"I planted'em sixty years ago."

like faith could never die.

Gape God Landscapes

Nature has richly endowed Cape Cod and southeastern New England with a characteristic beauty which, together with its year-around mildness of climate, offers strong appeal to many thousands to make their home here for at least some part of every year. Fully appreciated from the days of the earliest settlers, most of that natural beauty remains unspoiled to-day. The fragrant bayberry and the fruitful beach-plum fringe the margins of great dunes, and from above picturesque weather-beaten pines and oaks frame vistas of wide blue sea and glistening white sands.

Almost within a stone's throw of the ocean are thick native woodlands, dotted with hundreds of mirror-like fresh water ponds, reflecting cedar and pine, alder and azalea.

Village greens, once set apart as military training grounds in Revolutionary days, now are bordered with great over-arching elms behind which rise in quiet dignity the peaceful spires of the people's churches, and the colonial homes of old-line families.

It is but natural that those who come to make their homes here quickly share the spirit of the old New England countryside. In more recent years their homes have added much to the simple beauty of the region. Home grounds both large and small have too their well kept shaded lawns, their homey garden spots.

To help to build and to create a fair share of the man-made beauty on and near Cape Cod has been our pleasant business for over half a century. To provide the materials, the labor and the experienced skill required in the development and maintenance of landscapes, old and new, is the objective which our Complete Landscape Service is well qualified to attain for you and for your friends.

TO-DAY'S NEWER HARDY FLOWERS

Outstanding and Reliable Introductions

Alert flower lovers who are on the watch for new materials for the garden will find many items of interest in this list. All of them have been tested and found desirable under the exacting conditions of the Cape.

ARBUTUS

Trailing Arbutus or Mayflower

These are among our finest Native Flowers and because of their popularity are rapidly disappearing from our woodlands. It has always been considered "hard" to grow, but we have succeeded in producing them in quantity and now offer them nursery-grown in $2\frac{1}{4}$ and $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch pots. Their culture is not difficult, provided they are given an acid soil in light shade and plenty of water until established. Cultural directions will be sent with all orders. Potgrown plants 50c each; \$5.00 per dozen; \$40.00 per 100.

New Dwarf Asters

This new type of Hardy Aster is one of the most valuable of introductions of recent years. Rarely a foot high, they are covered with gaily colored flowers in late summer, when other plants are out of bloom.

All Dwarf Asters listed are 30 cts. each; $3.00 per doz.

Countess of Dudley. Pink livened with a bright yellow eye.

Daphne. Soft pink flowers cover the plant. Lady Henry Maddocks. Pale pink.

Snow Sprite. Large, nearly double white. Victor. Pale lavender-blue. Six to eight in.

Helenium

Moerheim Beauty. Grows 2½ ft. high. Blooms in early August. Strong habit. Broad bronzy red ray florets shading to orange at the tips.

Nanum luteum. 2½ ft. Bold masses of golden yellow flowers in early August. Free flowering.

Above two varieties from pots 35 cts. each; $3.50 per doz.

Hybrid Hemerocallis

New varieties of this standby of the oldfashioned garden extend the season by a month or more and add several new shades. Absolutely hardy and blooming dependably year after year; we recommend these hybrids with confidence.

All varieties listed are priced at 75 cts. each; $7.50 per doz.

Anna Betscher. Rich golden-yellow. July.
Framingham. Deep orange, medium sized flowers. June-July.

Goldeni. Luminous golden orange. July-Aug.

Iris Perry. Bronzy-orange late June. Lemona. Pale lemon flowers. July-Aug.

Margaret Perry. Orange-scarlet with each petal center-striped in yellow. Free blooming. July-Aug.

Mrs. W. H. Wyman. Pale yellow. August.

Hemerocallis Hyperion

By far the finest light yellow Day lily. Blooms in July and August. Primrose yellow with emerald sheen. Delightfully fragrant. Fine for cutting. $1.50 each; $15.00 per dozen.

Hybrid Korean Chrysanthemums

An entirely new type of Chrysanthemum beauty has been developed in these hybrids of the wild Korean Chrysanthemum with the familiar garden varieties. From the wild parent they inherit a ruggedness and early blooming characteristic which make them especially valuable in the exposed conditions of the Cape.

All Korean Hybrids are 25 cents each; $2.50 a dozen

Apollo. Brilliant combination of orange and buff.

Ceres. Corn yellow and buff in pastel tints. Daphne. Salmon-pink, the first Chrysanthemum of this shade.

Diana. Semi-double flowers varying from pink to rose.

Hebe. Luminous pink changing to lavenderpink. Very early.

Innocence. Pure white flowers changing to soft pink. Dwarf.

Mars. Velvety-amaranth red flowers of larger size than usual.

Orion. Brilliant canary-yellow. A lively color new to this class.

Vulcan. A glowing carmine-red; appealing fragrance.

Phlox — Three New Varieties

We are pleased to call your attention to three new worth while varieties of this old and popular perennial. The rich coloring and large size make them outstanding among the introductions of the last few years.

The price of these varieties is 50 cts. each; $5.00 per doz.

Columbia. A distinctive clear pink; large flowers.

Daily Sketch. Exceptionally large flowers of a rich glowing pink.

Tigress. Outstanding novelty with immense trusses of a brilliant orange-scarlet. Vigorous, upright grower.

The two cannon near the Barnstable Court House were brought by ox-team from Boston in 1812 to protect the salt works.

TWENTY RELIABLE ARISTOCRATS

Leaders among the perennials

Hardy perennials, those dependable plants which give the garden picture color from early spring to frost, increase in beauty from year to year. In this list you will find many of the most desirable varieties, or we shall be pleased to help you make a selection for any particular type of garden you may plan to have.

Many other desirable Perennials will be found in the general listing on Pages 7 and 8.

NEW AND PATENTED HYBRID TEAROSES

For garden decoration or as an ideal cut-flower it is doubtful if this class of Roses can be surpassed. The short, easily managed plants bloom from June until frost. The varieties listed represent what we consider the best of the new introductions.

Alezane (Plant Patent No. 116). The unique reddish-brown buds open into cup-shaped flowers of a rich apricot shade. Unlike most Roses of a similar shade, the color is unaffected by the rain or heat. The plants are vigorously branching, the foliage dark green and healthy. $1.25 each; $12.50 per doz.

Carillon (Plant Patent No. 136). A superb bedding rose of rich coral and orange. The long pointed buds are ideal for cutting. Has a splendid lateral form of growth, which continuously sends up flower buds. The fall flowers are especially lovely. $1.00 each; $10.00 per doz.

Countess Vandal (Plant Patent No. 38). The perfumed perfectly formed flowers are a blending of delicate copper and salmon shades. The excellent disease-resistant foliage is a perfect foil for the sprightly color. Plant, vigorous. $1.00 each; $10.00 per doz.

Eclipse (Plant Patent No. 172). Very long graceful buds of golden yellow, opening to large loosely formed flowers, $1.50 each; $15.00 per doz.

Feu Pernet Ducher (Plant Patent No. 103). The creamy buds heavily marked with orange red open into rich yellow flowers shading lighter at the edge of the petals. The flowers which are produced abundantly in the fall are darker than those earlier in the season. One of the most fragrant novelties of recent years. $1.00 each; $10.00 per doz.

Gloaming (Plant Patent No. 137). satiny-pink buds open to glowing pink flowers overlaid with soft amber. An ideal Rose for the cutting garden. $1.25 each; $12.50 per doz.

Golden Main (Plant Patent No. 254). Brilliant dandelion yellow, a charming new variety that stands the sun well. each; $10.00 per doz.

Matador (Plant Patent No. 170). crimson-scarlet flowers on plants of medium height with rich glossy foliage. Another variety that has its loveliest flowers in the One of the best of the newcomers.

$1.25 each; $12.50 per doz.

Rheingold (Plant Patent No. 138). large fully double blooms are a clear golden yellow and deliciously fragrant. Free flowering from June until frost. $1.00 each; $10.00 per doz.

Rochester (Plant Patent No. 131). The rich golden yellow and buff flowers are produced in good-sized clusters. The plant is strong with disease resistant foliage. Recommended. $1.00 each; $10.00 per doz. White Briarcliff (Plant Patent No. 108). Continuously produces pure white flowers of perfect form. The plants are medium sized and well branched. $1.25 each; $12.50 per doz.

Radiant Beauty (Plant Patent No. 97). A sport of the old favorite Francis Scott Key that opens its flowers better. The color is an odd shade of red. $1.25 each; $12.50 per doz. Recommended.

Signora (Plant Patent No. 201). flowers of orange and pink tones blended with fawn. A very vigorous plant that blooms freely. $1.50 each; $15.00 per doz.

(Patent No. 109.) Vigorous bushy plant of continuous blooming habit. Buds, orange-scarlet in clusters opening to medium large semi-double blooms of orange-scarlet with a suffusion of carmine on the reverse. $1.00 each; $10.00 per doz.

AN EMINENTLY SUCCESSFUL CAPE COD GARDEN WITHIN FIFTY FEET OF THE OCEAN

Give me a bit o' the blue above

And a deeper blue below

The slippin' sands of the dunes I love

And a spot where flowers grow.

Gape God Gardens

Enthusiastic Cape Codders, both native and adopted, often remark on the striking beauty of our gardens near the sea. There seems to be an extra brilliance in the gay colors, a lush luxuriance in the sturdy growth in many cases.

Long experience in making many of the Cape's gardens permits us to confirm this rather general impression. Bright clear blue waters in the hundreds of indenting bays and inlets along the seashore do seem to impart an added sparkle to the colors of the flowers. Phlox, Iris, Delphiniums, Hollyhocks, even the humble Petunias, all put on their brightest raiment. And Roses on Cape Cod,—their prowess has drawn admiring comment from all who see them.

Yet the same sea and the same cool breezes that temper the climate create a windsweep so forceful at times that even the sturdy bayberry, oak, pine and cedar bend before it and take on characteristic forms of picturesque artistic beauty.

Before flower colors can be gay or growth be sturdy there must be protection from direct prevailing winds, a soil made deep and fertile, plant materials that are strong to start with, and a wise selection of plants proved by experience suited to the given conditions. Back of the beauty of every successful garden, large or small, therefore, must be the skill and experienced knowledge of those who plan and construct and plant.

It is this service that we provide, and upon its successful performance depends the continuance of a reputation of fifty-two years' standing for reliability, long-range economy, good taste, personal interest, and efficient satisfactory handling of all types of landscape improvement.

We welcome the opportunity to serve you and your friends.

CHOICE FLOWERING SHRUBS

Ten Tested Leaders of Distinction

Shrubs, in many cases, are the very foundation of the garden, a flowering background for the more vivid annuals and perennials. Among the many new things introduced recently the following varieties seem outstanding for Cape gardens.

Buddleia

Buddleia, Ile de France. A new form of the familiar Butterfly Bush. The long branching stems are covered with violet-purple flowers, each of which has a golden center. Plants grow readily and carry a great number of blooms. One of the finest of the summer-flowering shrubs. 2-yr. plants, 60 cts. each; $6.00 per doz.

Caryopteris

A small shrub that originally came from castern Asia. It is perfectly hardy and valued for the blooms which come late in the season. Caryopteris incana, Bluebeard or Blue Spirea. Violet-blue flowers in September and October. Pot-plants, 50 cts. each; $5.00 per doz.

Cotoneaster

Cotoneasters are almost evergreen, retaining the greater part of the foliage in winter. The charm of the plant lies in the long, graceful branches and the rich green foliage.

Cotoneaster divaricata. Desirable for rock-gardens because of the trailing habit. 2 to 2½ ft. plants B&B, $1.25 each.

C. horizontalis, Rock Cotoneaster. Trailing habit, with green foliage turning to crimson in autumn. Plants from 6-in. pots, $1.25 each.

Enkianthus

Enkianthus campanulatus. Yellowish or pale orange flowers in May and June, together with brilliant red foliage in autumn make this one of our handsomest shrubs. 3–4 ft., $2.50 each; $25.00 per doz.

Forsythia

Forsythia spectabilis. Bright yellow, free-flowering shrub. 2-3 ft., 60 cts. each; $6.00 per doz.

Kolkwitzia

Kolkwitzia amabilis, Beauty Bush. Masses of pale pink tubular flowers in early June. One of the best of the recent introductions. 2–3 ft. plants, 75 cts. each; $7.50 per doz.

Hybrid Lilacs

The old familiar Lilacs of New England do not by any means compare with the newer varieties, whose trusses are much larger and the colors far more beautiful. A collection of Lilacs grows in value each year.

3-4 ft. plants, $1.00 each

Charles X. Violet-red; single. Midseason. Hugo Koster. Deep red or purple; single. Jan van Tol. White; petals frilled; single. Katherine Havemeyer. Light lilac, flushed with mauve; double.

Ludwig Spaeth. Dark purple; single.

Marie Legraye. Yellowish in bud, opening pure white; single.

Michel Buchner. Pale lilac; double.

Mme. Lemoine. Pure white; double.

Mrs. Edward Harding. Bud carmine, opening to purple, tinged pink; double.

Hybrid Mock Orange

Philadelphus virginal. This is the best of the large flowering Mock Oranges. The fragrant white flowers are borne in May and June with intermittent blooms thereafter. 2–3 ft. plants, 50 cts. each; $5.00 per doz.

Viburnum

V. carlesi, Fragrant Viburnum. The waxy flowers are like large Mayflower blossoms. Delicious fragrance. 1½-2 ft. plants, $1.50 each.

Vitex

Vitex macrophylla. A tall-growing shrub with very large foliage. In late summer the plant is prominent with its lavender-blue flowers. Makes a very fine specimen. 3-yr. plants. 75 cts. each; $7.50 per doz.

Other Choice Plants

Many varieties of plants and ornamentals not listed in this catalog are grown at our nursery. Some of them are new or rare varieties in which our supply is limited. . . others are only slightly different from those listed. If the material you are looking for is not in the catalog may we suggest that you write us giving full information, or better still visit our growing grounds and select the things you want. When sizes are given, only those which in our experience are most popular are mentioned. Smaller or larger sizes are likely to be available. It is well to remember that many things which do well in more sheltered country are not adaptable to the Cape Garden. Plants chosen from this list with good care should be successful under our rigorous conditions.

In 1640 a mutually protective law was passed in most of the Cape towns prohibiting Indians from owning horses.

OTHER SHRUBS OF UNQUESTIONED MERIT

Many shrubs of our grandmothers' day together with some newer desirables are represented in this list. When planning an old-time Cape Garden it is well to use such varieties as Common Lilacs, Spireas and Viburnums. They capture the flavor of an older generation to perfection.

Character in Home and Garden

The single word "Character" adequately expresses the appeal of this delightful and typical Cape Cod Cottage home. Just as the character of the home is typical of its locality, so the character of the home garden should be equally appropriate. Dr. F. A. Waugh aptly voices this belief in these words:—

"A garden without some personality back of it and throughout it is in a poor manner of existence. In hardly any other domain is it so greatly to be desired that the maker of the work should show his individual taste. The interior of the house may be machine-made, ready furnished by the real estate company, but the garden never! That has to be wrought out by the invention, the wisdom and the patience of someone with the heart to make a home. There must be some personality, some character in it and every perfect garden must have its own local motive."

A Word About New and Rare Plants

Several uncommon plants of great appeal and merit are described elsewhere in this booklet. Space does not permit as complete a listing or as adequate descriptions as we wish were possible.

We are constantly trying out new and rare plants, and have many kinds available in our nurseries. The beautiful Trailing Arbutus (described on page 4) is a specialty with us, as are the splendid new varieties of Lemon Lily, Hemerocallis. The remarkable new Russell Lupins we offer in pot-grown plants in limited quantity, and also seed of this new strain. Gaillardia "Sun God" and Aster Frikarti, several new varieties of the midsummer Phlox, and new introductions in Hardy Chrysanthemums, among them some outstanding seedling crosses of our own, the new Veronica Blue Spire, all these we have, and more, including the best of the patented roses described on page 9.

Why nor try some of these introductions this year?

The oldest windmill in America once stood in West Yarmouth. It was bought for Henry Ford in 1935 and moved from its 300 year home.

W. sinensis alba. Similar to above with white flowers. 3-yr. plants, $1.00 each.

ANNUALS AND BEDDING PLANTS

The bright colors, the all-summer bloom, and the picking value of annual flowers make them almost indispensable. We raise some seventy-five thousand of these plants in our greenhouses each spring, including the most popular and well known sorts and also several excellent kinds not commonly offered, such as cream yellow and pink Lantanas, true Heavenly Blue Morning Glory, three varieties of Blue Salvia, and new colors in Petunias, Zinnias and others. We try to have all our annuals in good husky condition, a majority of them pot-grown, ready from May 10th on, assuring the maximum of success and satisfaction.

In 1852 a Brewster captain carried the first cargo of ice to the tropics, with a net profit of more than a thousand percent.

The Scope of Our Horticultural Service

Established fifty-two years ago, in 1886, by the present owner and manager, the H. V. LAWRENCE organization has gradually and steadily grown from a very humble beginning to a place of leadership in the horticultural field in this section of the state.

In addition to our Cape Cod Nurseries of over forty acres where we grow quantities of sturdy stock in hardy perennials, trees, flowering shrubs, evergreens, and roses, both old favorites and the popular new introductions, we offer a Complete Landscape Construction Service, providing all labor, materials and experienced skill required for any landscape improvement work.

Grading, road construction, lawn making, tennis court building, all types of garden development, terraces, pools, plantings for every purpose, pruning, spraying, mulching and general maintenance,—all such work we are well qualified to handle.

Our Flower Shop and Greenhouses offer quality and up-to-the-minute distinctiveness in flowers, plants and decorations, and supply thousands of the best in annual plants in wide assortment for continuous bloom in summer gardens.

From our Agricultural Supply Shop come flower, vegetable and grass seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, tools, hose and all gardening requisites.

Wise planning is essential in every successful improvement of the grounds. Where desired, thoughtful and suitable plans, adjusted to meet individual budget provisions, are prepared in our Landscape Offices, by men trained and experienced in good landscape architecture.

Whatever your horticultural needs may be, let Lawrence's in Falmouth help you. Our prices are reasonable and our work thorough and reliable.

Our plant materials are guaranteed clean, healthy and true to name. Please state preferences as to time and method of shipment. Truck deliveries are recommended where practicable.

Our main offices and shops are on Depot Avenue, near the railroad station, just off route 28 in Falmouth village. Our main nurscries are conveniently nearby. Our telephone is Falmouth 126.
